

TRADE UNION

The School For the Higher Education of the Workman.

Secretary of Labor Wilson Was Graduated From That School.

His Address at American Federation of Labor Worth Study.

HUMAN BEING VERSUS MACHINE

The son of a common workman, later a miner and a member of various trades unions for forty-three years, now a member of Wilson's Cabinet, a foremost statesman of the land, is the record of Hon. William B. Wilson, a graduate of the school of trade unionism. Indeed it was not his family connections, or education, nor his wealth and grand rise in government employ that made a statesman out of the trade unionist, but merely the experience gained in the weekly and monthly meetings of his union, at the annual conventions of his trade, and later his attendance at the many conventions of the American Federation of Labor. It was there in the labor movement, and later in Congress, that he voiced the hopes and views and gave expression to the wrongs inflicted upon labor, and worked and accomplished much for labor and for the people generally. It is of much interest to trade unionists, and particularly to all workmen, that his address to the delegates of the American Federation of Labor at Philadelphia is studied by all. Secretary Wilson said in part:

"We have taken the ground, and we think justly, that employers and employees have a mutual interest in securing the largest possible production with a given amount of labor; the larger the amount that is produced, the larger the amount that is available for distribution; that their interests only diverge when it comes to a determination of the share that should go to each and the methods under which the material should be produced. As their interests only diverge at those points, it is the proper thing for employers and employees alike to sit down around the council table and work out the problems they have to deal with on as nearly as correct mathematical basis as possible. Working from that theory of the mutual interests that each has in production, we have proceeded to the consideration of these problems as being partisans, upon the theory that the Department of Labor in acting as a mediator performs judicial functions, and there is no more reason that the Department of Labor should be debarred from handling trade disputes upon a diplomatic basis because it is interested in the welfare of the workers than that the Department of State should be debarred from handling international disputes because of the fact that it is a part of the Federal Government of the United States.

"What we need in handling trade disputes, and what we have attempted to select in handling trade disputes, is men who have experience and who are level-headed and understand the technicalities of the subject matter they are to deal with. You can not take a man who has had no experience, you can not take a man who knows nothing about a trade, no matter how big he is, and inject him into the negotiations for the settlement of a trade dispute and expect to get beneficial results from his injection into it. You must take men who have had practical experience. And so we have gone on with this line of work, and as I have said, in nearly every instance we have been successful. And those instances where we have been unsuccessful have been principally due to that class of employers, extremists, a class becoming smaller and smaller as the years go by, who look upon their employees as simply a part of the machinery of their establishments, to be treated in exactly the same way as they would treat other machines, with this difference, that the inanimate machine in their shop is so constructed and so standardized that they can calculate with almost mathematical accuracy what the working strain and what the breaking strain of the machine is; and they know if they crowd the machine up to the breaking strain, and it does break, it will cost them something to replace the machine. Not so much with the human being that is employed by them, and that they look upon as a machine. He is not standardized, he is not uniform in his physical and mental equipment; there has been no method determined by which you can calculate the breaking strain or the working strain of a human being. Even the worker himself does not know what his own breaking strain is, and if you crowd that human machine up to the breaking strain, and it does break, then it costs the employer nothing to replace it. We have held throughout that the human being is an entirely different thing from the machine, and should be treated entirely different from the manner in which you treat the machine. The human being who is employed in the plant is a living, moving, sentient being like ourselves, with all the hopes and all the aspirations that God has implanted in the human breast, and is entitled to the same considerations as you would give to any other human being who is not engaged as a wage worker.

We have all along recognized that the employers own the land, that they own the plants, that they own the machines; but we have positively denied, continuously denied, that they own the men, and for the first time in the history of this or any other country we have that idea embodied in legislation—that labor is no longer a commodity or article of commerce and can not be any longer considered as such.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Despite the rain there was a good attendance at the meeting of Division 2, A. O. U. L., and the pleasant reunion that followed. President Ford occupied the chair and extended a cordial greeting to County President Connelly and other visitors present. Secretary Daniel O'Keefe read a communication from the National Secretary and presented another application for the initiation to take place at the January meeting. The division by unanimous vote approved the recommendation to hereafter meet in the Elderkrantz Hall building, Sixth and Walnut, on the first Thursday of each month. In announcing the election of officers and declining to serve longer President Ford expressed his appreciation of the courtesy and friendship extended him during the seventeen years he presided over Division 2. The following officers were then chosen for the ensuing term:

President—Joseph Lynch.
Vice President—Daniel O'Keefe.
Recording Secretary—John T. Keane.
Financial Secretary—Edward J. Keane.
Treasurer—Thomas Hannan.
Sergeant-at-Arms—John P. Helton.

Standing Committee—James Welsh, John J. Sullivan, William T. Mehan, Owen Sullivan, Michael O'Keefe.

County President Connelly in a heart to heart talk commended the spirit exhibited by the members present. He had only words of encouragement and said there was no doubt that Division 2 was entering upon an era that would restore its former prestige. Complimenting the retiring officers, he expressed the belief that their successors were earnest and willing workers, and with them the Division would go forward and enter the front rank. William M. Higgins, Michael O'Keefe and William T. Mehan spoke briefly, after which all enjoyed the luncheon and refreshments presided over by James Welsh and Joseph Lynch. In the near future the division will entertain with a euchre and dance.

CHARLES J. MCGUIRE.

Announcement of the demise on Monday of Charles J. McGuire, after a brief illness of indigestion, was a shock and surprise to his legion of friends and acquaintances throughout the city and State. Deceased was born in Brr, Kings county, Ireland, sixty-four years ago, and was brought by his parents to this country when but seven years old. The greater part of his life was passed in Louisville, over forty years being spent in the home where he died on Gray street. Charlie McGuire, as he was familiarly called, was an affable gentleman, whose sterling qualifications and scholarly attainments won him strong friendships. True and steadfast as a friend, with warm-hearted sympathy for those less fortunate, he was one who struggled for the upbuilding of the beautiful city that mourns his death. For ten years he was Secretary and Treasurer of the Louisville Transfer Company, when he became identified with the Greenbaum Distillery Company, from which he retired five years ago to engage in the real estate business. Mr. McGuire was a student of history and sound literature, and while a true and patriotic American he never forgot the land of his birth, and to see Ireland free was his ardent desire. He was a devoted husband and loving father and leaves to mourn his loss a wife who was Miss Ella O'Connor; two daughters, Misses Mary and Rose McGuire; a sister, Miss Nettie McGuire, and two brothers, James McGuire and the Rev. Father Thomas McGuire, whose illness prevented him from attending the last solemn obsequies. The funeral took place Wednesday morning from St. John's church, when Rev. Father Schubert paid fitting tribute to the exemplary life and character that had left them. The pallbearers were Dr. J. W. Fowler, Dr. John Galvin, Prof. W. H. Bartholomew, Dr. Metcalfe, Lawrence Veemman, E. J. Mann and Charles O'Connor.

MERLIN THE MINSTREL.

One of our local citizens went into the city of Rome on the other morning and going up to one of the windows questioned the young man stationed there about his tall hat, but was amazed to have fired back at him "Why does a chicken cross the street?" and "What makes more noise than a pig in a gate?" Before the taxpayer could reply the deputy begged his pardon and explained that he had been rehearsing his lines for the minstrel show to be given by the members of the St. Charles ball club on December 28, 29 and 30, in St. Charles Hall, Twenty-seventh and Chestnut streets. The deputy was Merlin Horgan, the crack outfielder, who is also due to make a hit as one of the sweet singers.

SECOND TO ITALY.

After Italy the United States has now the largest hierarchy in the Catholic world, with 101 archdioceses and dioceses.

GLADDEN

Preaches Another Convincing Sermon On People and Friendship.

Scores Those Who Question the Loyalty of Catholic Citizens.

The Foundation On Which the Commonwealth Must Rest.

RELIGION REQUIRES LOYALTY

Dr. Washington Gladden, the noted Protestant churchman of Columbus, Ohio, in his Sunday sermon in the Congregational church, replying to several questions, said in part:

But some of you are asking a question that we often hear: "Can a Roman Catholic be loyal to his country?" It is a little like asking "Can there be a sky over our heads, and earth under our feet?" Look about you! You know a good many Roman Catholics. Are they not, as a rule, patriotic people? Do they not, as a rule, obey the laws like any other people, and pay their taxes as promptly as Protestants? Are they not ready, when their country calls, to give their lives in her defense? How many of them left their bones on Southern battlefields? Can a Catholic be a loyal American? Did you ever hear of William T. Sherman or Philip H. Sheridan? Oh, it is shameful to utter such a suspicion. You can, of course, by putting your own construction on the Catholic doctrine, make it clear to yourself that a Catholic can not be loyal, but the simple question is how does the Catholic understand it? Every intelligent Catholic declares that his religion requires him to be loyal to his country; and Catholics by the 10,000 have sealed that doctrine with their blood.

But there are a good many Protestants who, though they may not consciously adopt the policy of disfranchising Catholics, are disposed to do all they can to discredit them. Their minds are full of suspicion, they are quick to credit any evil tale that can be told about Catholics and not slow to give it currency. It is scarcely to note the eagerness with which such stories are welcomed and retailed. I am speaking now of Protestants and I am saying these things because I am a Protestant, and because Protestantism is dishonored and defiled by such methods of controversy. In the name of all that is sacred and honorable in the religion of my fathers I protest against these campaigns of calumny. To make answer, as many do, that the Catholics are equally abusive and libelous is to descend into the gutter. If that were true, would it be any justification? It is a pretty cheap sample of a man who does not hate such methods, whoever resorts to them; but it is when they are preached in aid of a cause that is dear to me that they become to me doubly execrable and infamous; then it is that with all my soul I abhor them.

So we come back to our question and repeat the confession of our faith that religious people can be friends and must be friends. Protestants and Catholics living together on this broad continent, working together in fields and mines and shops and stores and offices and factories, partners in industrial and civil life, have got to be friends. What other attitude will they take toward each other but that of friendship? Shall they hold each other aloof, put each other under suspicion, treat each other as though neither trusted the other's sincerity? That will never do. You can not build a Commonwealth on any such foundation as that.

Oh, Christian men, what am I saying? To whom am I speaking? I am speaking to men and women who believe in God the Father; who are known as the disciples of Jesus Christ. Let me cover my face for shame! I am standing here, nineteen centuries after the angels sang peace and good will over the plains of Bethlehem, and trying to prove to men who hear the name of Jesus that they can be and ought to be friends.

Has it come to this, that such a plea is needed? May God forgive us all!

TOMORROW AT ST. BONIFACE.

Tomorrow will be the anniversary of a number of the societies of St. Boniface church, and being the Sunday within the octave of the feast of the Immaculate Conception there will be an impressive celebration at the solemn vespers in the afternoon. The Rev. Father Fitzgerald, pastor of St. Leo's church, Highland Park, will preach the sermon on this occasion, a distinction seldom conferred on any but members of the order.

K. OF C. LECTURE.

Dr. Peter S. Gans will deliver a lecture at the K. of C. Hall next Wednesday evening for the benefit of the members, his subject to be a report of the Catholic Federation and what it proposes to do in the future. Thomas Walsh, the splendid lecturer, has arranged a splendid programme for every Wednesday evening during the lecturer's session.

COMING EVENTS.

December 20—Entertainment for St. Philip Neri church at Windthorst Hall, Floyd and Woodbine.

December 20—Christmas entertainment, St. Leo's school, Highland Park.

December 28-30—Ministerial show at St. Charles Hall, Twenty-seventh and Chestnut.

Tuesday, December 29—Euchre for Belgium sufferers at St. William's school hall.

January 6-7—Euchre and lotto for St. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital, to be held in hospital building.

Tuesday, January 12—Euchre and lotto by Cathedral Altar Society in new Cathedral hall.

January 24—Catholic Choral Union concert at Macculey's Theater for benefit of St. Lawrence Institute for Homeless Boys.

PERIL

Tries Another Method of Bleeding Its Dupes and Followers.

Wants Subscribers to Pay For Life Time Subscriptions.

The Publisher Sees Beginning of the End of the A. P. A. Movement.

WANTS SOME GET-A-WAY MONEY

Attention of our readers is called to the hard luck story of the editor of the Peril, an A. P. A. sheet, which has been published at Wilkesboro, North Carolina, and which only recently canvassed its subscribers in Louisville for the purpose of moving its plant (which according to the appeal does not seem to be much of a plant) to this city for publication. The last edition of the Peril was composed of one sheet, printed on one side only and was headed "The Special Appeal Edition," the editor and publisher requesting that his $5 each to assist him in buying a $5 each to assist him in buying a $7,000, but does not explain what became of the thousands of dollars he received for support in the past and which was growing by thousands weekly. The Peril publisher further confesses that he only sent out two papers the last two months, but jolies his subscribers, who are complaining, that in his next installment he will publish more "Disclosures of the horrible workings of the Detroit House of Good Shepherd." He further states that the Peril will make a special campaign against the houses of the Good Shepherd and that the battle cry of the Peril will be "Down with the houses of the Good Shepherd, and that at once." In wanting to move his plant, and also pleading for what he terms "life subscribers," this smooth-tongued publisher acknowledges the handwriting on the wall, that the end of the A. P. A. movement and persecution is in sight. The following is his appeal as printed in the Peril:

"I am going to make a personal appeal to every subscriber and friend of the Peril to help me buy a linotype machine and printing press so that I can set up, print the paper and send it out regularly. I have been hiring my type set and printing done in Winston-Salem, N. C., eighty-five miles from Wilkesboro, and by the time I paid my printing bill, freight bill, and my own expenses in going to Winston-Salem to read the proof and help make up the print forms, the expenses of getting out the paper and sending it out ate up my receipts from subscriptions.

"For the sake of the cause the paper represents, and because of the hard work that I have put on the publication to make it a power against the Roman political machine, I appeal to every subscriber and friend of the Peril to read my plan to raise a fund immediately to buy a linotype machine and printing press, so that I can print the paper regularly and send it out, and to help me raise the fund.

"A linotype machine will cost me $2,500 and a printing press $4,500, making a total cost of $7,000. Here is my plan to raise this amount: A lifetime subscription to the Peril is $5, and a five-year-subscription is $25. If the majority of my subscribers will send me a lifetime subscription, and those who can not possibly spare the $5 for a lifetime subscription will send me $1 for a five-year-subscription, I will have the money to fully equip the publication. Now, I appeal to every one of my subscribers and friends to send me $5 for a lifetime subscription, which will be only a small amount from you, but which will mean, when all your lifetime subscriptions are put together, a sufficiently large amount for me to fully equip the Peril and make it a full-fledged weekly, which I shall make it as soon as I get the new equipment installed. As stated above, if you can not possibly spare $5 to put you on my subscription list for life, send me $1 for five years."

NATCHEZ.

John Mary Joseph Chanche Was First Bishop of That Diocese.

Irish Priests Ministered to Early English and American Settlers.

During Eleven Years' Episcopate Church Made Marked Progress.

ESTABLISHED MANY MISSIONS

By James A. Rooney, LL. D.

After twice declining the mitre in two of the most important sees in the country, once as coadjutor to Archbishop Whitfield, of Baltimore, and again as coadjutor to Bishop Dubois, of New York, the Rev. John Mary Joseph Chanche, S. S., President of St. Mary's College, Baltimore, finally accepted the Bull "Universal Dominical Gregorius" of Gregory XVI., dated December 15, 1840, appointing him as the first Bishop of Natchez, Miss. From a worldly viewpoint it was one of the most desolate and unpromising fields, comprising the entire State of Mississippi, but with sacred traditions of missionary effort on the part of Jesuit and Capuchin going back many years. The advent of De Soto was there in 1540; then came La Salle in 1682, claiming the country for France; next D'Iberville attempted colonization and his lieutenant, Font, built Fort Rosalie not far from Natchez. In 1727 the Jesuit and Capuchins labored among the Indians and French and the Jesuit Father Du Poisson met a martyr's death in the Indian massacre of 1729.

While the region was in the possession of Spain the Government in 1767 sent four Irish priests to minister to such English and American as might be attracted as settlers. They were Fathers Constantine McKenna, William Savage, Michael Lampert and Gregory White. A tract of land, now within the limits of the city, was purchased and dedicated to the purposes of religion, but this was confiscated by the United States in taking possession of the country in 1797, on the ground that the title vested in the Spanish Government and was properly included in the Louisiana purchase. When the Irish priests withdrew the Catholics were ministered to by occasional missionaries, including Father Anthony Blanc, afterward the first Archbishop of New Orleans, and Father John Timon, C. S. A., afterward first Bishop of Buffalo, and the only priest there at the time of the unheralded arrival, alone and at night, of Bishop Chanche was Father Brogard.

The Bishop was a magnificent specimen of manhood, in the prime of life at forty-six, tall and commanding in figure, handsome of face and bland and gentle of manner. He was a descendant of wealthy refugees from the negro outbreak in Santo Domingo and was born in Baltimore, October 4, 1795. Having been educated by the Sulpicians he became one of them and was ordained June 5, 1819, taking up his duties as professor in St. Mary's and succeeding the Rev. Samuel Recluse as President in 1834 on the latter's appointment to the see of Baltimore. One of the most accomplished preachers of his time, he was in much demand for sermons before and after his consecration. He was master of ceremonies at the first council of Baltimore and theologian at the fourth.

His consecration took place in the Baltimore Cathedral, March 14, 1841, the Most Rev. Archbishop Eccleston officiating, assisted by Bishops Fenwick, of Boston, and Hughes, of New York. He started for his see on April 27 and he arrived unaccompanied at Natchez, May 10, by boat from New Orleans. He landed at night and had neither reception nor ovation, the only ones to welcome him being a negro who shouldered his single piece of baggage and preceded the Bishop to the hotel where he put up for the night.

But he lost no time in letting his people know that he was on hand for the very morning after his coming, which was Ascension Thursday, he offered the Divine Sacrifice in Mechanics' Hall, preached and explained some of his plans. He said he came to them to organize the diocese and he began practically without church, priest or school or funds to provide them. His people made a ready and generous response and the trustees conveyed to him a splendid property at Main and Union streets for a Cathedral. With every assurance that he would find united support he started North to seek additional help and among other gifts received the sum of $3,500 from Bishop Blanc, a fund that had been provided by the Association for the Propagation of the Faith. He returned very much encouraged, bringing with him some accomplished teachers, two of them his own nieces.

He laid the cornerstone of his new Cathedral February 24, 1843, assisted by the Rev. John G. Francois and the Rev. P. P. Desautel, and in the presence of the city authorities and an immense congregation. Though not quite finished the Cathedral was dedicated the following Christmas. During his episcopate of eleven years he built eleven churches, established thirty-two missions and increased the number of his clergy to eleven. He introduced the Sisters of Charity from Emmitsburg and other teaching orders, who have since established many houses throughout the diocese.

Bishop Chanche's last episcopal act was to participate in the first provincial council of Baltimore in May, 1852. At its close he paid a family visit to some relatives in Frederick, Md. There he was stricken with his last illness, a virulent form of cholera morbus, from which he failed to rally and he passed peacefully to his reward July 22, 1852, in the fifty-sixth year of his age and the eleventh of his episcopate.

MACKIN COUNCIL.

Mackin Council had the most exciting and enthusiastic meeting of the year Monday night, when the annual election was held. Every candidate had his personal following and this brought out an immense attendance. President George Thornton wielded the gavel firmly, otherwise the meeting would have lasted until morning. Intense interest centered in the various contests, and not until the last ballots were counted could the results be foretold. One application was received and cheers greeted the report that not a member was on the sick list. President Thornton announced that next Monday night Charles I. Cate would tell of his seven years' experience in Panama, which would prove interesting and instructive. He also urged the members to work for a large class for the initiation to be held before the Lenten season. Twelve tellers were appointed to conduct the election, which resulted as follows:

President—John J. Lynn.
First Vice President—John W. Murphy.
Second Vice President—Martin P. Schadd.
Treasurer—George J. Thornton.
Financial Secretary—William A. Cassin.
Recording Secretary—William G. Buckel.
Marshal—Harry Alberts.
Inside Sentinel—Edward Gratzler.
Outside Sentinel—George Dwyer.
Executive Committee—Frank G. Adams, Thomas Bachman, Frank Geller, A. W. Andriot, John R. Barry.

The officers-elect will be installed at the first meeting in the new year, and it is proposed to make it one of the most notable Mackin has yet held.

COVINGTON.

The city of Covington mourns the death of Senator Walker G. Hall, whose funeral was held Saturday morning from St. Mary's Cathedral. Vicar General Brossart, a personal friend of the late Senator, was the celebrant of the requiem high mass, and in paying tribute to the deceased alluded to the fact that only the week before in a conversation with Senator Hall the latter made reference to a sermon touching on the preparedness for death. Many State officials attended the funeral, among the number being Lieut. Gov. McDermott, accompanied by State Senators Knight and Huffaker, of Louisville; Spears, of Frankfort; former Judge Lussing, State Auditor Bosworth and his assistant, Peter Jones, of Frankfort, and Senator Webster Helm, of Newport.

FATHER HUGH LILLY.

The older members of St. Louis Bertrand's parish were grieved when they learned of the death of the Rev. Father Hugh Lilly, Preacher General of the Dominican order, at St. Anthony's Hospital, in Columbus, Ohio, which occurred after an illness of pneumonia. Father Lilly was eighty years old and is remembered by the older generation. For a number of years he was prior of the order here, during which time the Church of St. Louis Bertrand, at Sixth and St. Catherine streets, was begun under his direction. He made many mission tours over the country and through his zeal and persistent work rose to the rank of Preacher General. His funeral and interment took place Monday in New York City.

PRESENTS FOR CHILDREN.

Santa Claus will come to the Shelby Democratic Club as usual this year on December 25. The club members have been working diligently for two months collecting presents which will be given to the children of the Second and Third wards. Last year 1,500 children enjoyed the occasion and plans are to make this year's celebration equally as enjoyable. There will be six Santa Clauses—Magistrate Frank Dacher, Phil J. Fleig, Jacob Hartstern, Dr. C. W. Schmitt, Joseph Soller and Lawrence Steinmetz.

GENERAL MEETING.

The general meeting of the Louisville Conference of the St. Vincent de Paul Society will be held tomorrow afternoon in the Knights of Columbus Hall on Fourth street. President John A. Doyle will address the members on the work of the National Conference of Charities at Washington, to which he was a delegate. A record attendance is looked for.

JEFFERSONVILLE.

The Columbian Club, of Jeffersonville, has elected officers for six months as follows: Otto M. Schnatter, President; William E. Cole, Vice President; Charles Heuser, Secretary; George Schnatter, Treasurer; James Heuser, Thomas Kelly, Edward O'Brien and C. White, Directors.

CANDIDATES

Testing Public Sentiment With Semi-Official Announcements.

Henry Bosworth Anxious to Get in the Governor's Race.

Some Local Candidates Not in Great Favor With the Voters.

MIKE TYNAN NOW IN THE JAIL

The semi-official announcement of State Auditor Henry Bosworth that he would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor next year is expected to bring forth the announcement of his fellow State officer, Attorney General James Garnett, for the same plum, this to be followed by the official entrance into the race of Commissioner of Agriculture J. B. Newman, but the latter is by no means sure on account of the hearty opposition he would receive from the Democrats of Louisville, and that coupled with the fight on him by organized labor, may cause him to step aside at this time.

Mr. Bosworth's interests in this district will be handled by Henry Schweiters, and in case he does not run the latter will devote his energies toward securing a high vote for Tom Rhea for Auditor. The report will not down that ex-Mayor Head will enter the race for the gubernatorial nomination, but if he intends to run not even his closest friends can say definitely. While the above list are hesitating about their candidacy, Lieut. Gov. McDermott is busy receiving many pledges of support from those who consider that he is the only one in the race, and thus far he has enlisted quite a formidable organization. There seems to be a disposition on the part of some of the candidates for State offices to form a combination with the candidate for Governor, but this will be impossible, as the voters will rebel at machine made nominations.

Along with the possible candidates for the Circuit Judgeships next year the name of Merit O'Neal has been suggested as an entry for Judge of the Fourth division, Common Pleas branch, being a staunch Democrat and an able lawyer. Judge Muir Weissinger is a sure candidate for the nomination, and it is expected that Judge Charles Ray will be a candidate for re-election. There is sure to be several sharp contests for Judgeships in the election next year, and there is quite a feeling in the ranks of the Democratic voters against those holding judicial positions who believe themselves above the work of aiding the organization in the years that they are not candidates, and strange to say are of the opinion that they are needed on the ticket to insure success.

The mention in these columns last week of the possible candidacy of Henry Wallingford against Adam Spahn for the Legislative nomination in the Second and Third wards has brought to light another strong contender if he listens to the suggestions of his friends, and that is George Kettler, who has proven himself a high factor in Democratic circles in that district and if he enters the race a hot battle royal is in sight. It is also believed that Logan Rock will fight it out with Mayzell O'Brien in the Forty-eighth district, which is composed of the Sixth and Seventh wards. Dr. J. A. Casper has also been urged to enter the race for the nomination in the Fifty-fifth district, which is the Tenth ward. If he cares to run Will Duffy will be unopposed for the nomination in the Fifty-first district.

To the gratification of the many who know him, Mike Tynan was appointed on Jailer Charles Foster's force this past week, and if there is a loyal and faithful Democrat deserving reward it is the appointee. This appointment will prove one of Jailer Foster's most popular selections and will redound credit to his already successful administration. If the law enforcing the publication of campaign expenses was a local one many would be under the impression that the making and erection of banners would cut a big figure in the preliminary expenses of Frank Dugan, who is a candidate for the nomination for Circuit Clerk, but the truth is Mr. Dugan is as surprised as the next when he comes across his advertisement, the banners being placed by friends in different parts of the city without his knowledge, and is a tribute to his popularity and strength.

MARTIN O'TOOLE KILLED.

Martin O'Toole, forty years old and residing at 1836 High street, sustained fatal injuries in an explosion on the Portland canal, where he was engaged in construction work by the Bickel Company. The unfortunate man was setting a fuse leading to a charge of dynamite when the charge exploded. He was rushed to the hospital, but succumbed a short time after reaching there. His wife and the following sisters survive him, Mrs. John Burke, Mrs. Patrick Sweeney, Mrs. Mary Reardon and Mrs. Margaret Dunn. The funeral was held Monday morning from St. Cecilia's church, of which the dead man was long a member.

IN AND OUT OF MEXICO.

Why the sudden abandonment of Vera Cruz, by the United States troops? asks the editor of Leslie's Weekly. Even the best friends of President Wilson were surprised by it. The World criticizes him severely, Hearst's American says that the President's policy in Mexico has proved "an utter and humiliating failure," and the Times rejoices that "we are well out of it."

A letter from Mexico to the editor of Leslie's confirms the statement of Cardinal O'Connell at Boston recently, that atrocities are being committed in Mexico against priests and nuns. It is said that when the attention of President Wilson was brought to this condition and the American Government was urged to extend its protection to the Catholic church in Mexico, it was decided at once to withdraw the troops from Vera Cruz and get out of the entanglement as speedily as possible.

And now the question arises, why should we have embroiled ourselves with Mexico, even to the verge of war? Did we count the cost? What good has been done? Is Mexico better off? Are we better off? We have jeopardized the trade of a neighboring republic at the very moment when it would have come to us because the Germans, who controlled it largely, have withdrawn. President Wilson did not know the Mexican. He found Mexico with a President who had been recognized by all the other foreign nations. He leaves it now with two or three claiming the Presidency and none of them recognized by our Government or by any other.

If conditions at the outset in Mexico had been as dangerous to the peace and security of American residents as they are now, we should have been justified in interfering, but there was no justification after President Huerta had been constitutionally inaugurated and officially recognized by all the great powers. Our interference has cost us at least $10,000,000 and the loss of seven lives of brave marines—a costly bill for the shortsighted policy of an obstinate idealist undoubtedly inspired by the inexperienced statesman at the head of our Department of State.

ONLY TO LIVE.

Coming from the reverend editor of the Catholic Advance, this is more than good and will doubtless cause some serious thought:

"We think the time is now ripe to establish a great society of Catholics for the purpose of getting permission to live in this country, of which they were the first possessors, and enjoy a little of that free fresh air with which God has supplied us all so abundantly. This society should also guarantee to the general public of all and sundry kinds from Plymouth Rock on down, that Catholics would not occupy any public office with money in it; that they would assure the same public of their determination to eat only humble pie at all times and when buffeted never to strike back; that they would have absolutely nothing whatever to say in the making of the laws of the land, but that they would pay their taxes willingly and keep themselves and their church absolutely and irrevocably separated from the State and the respectable people comprising it. This great society, whatever it would do for Catholics, would certainly contribute to the peace and contentment of a multitude of soap box orators, twenty-five cent Rome-howlers and gutter-wallowing editors."

NEWSPAPER FIGHTERS.

The German army has scored decisive victories against the Russians, French and Belgians, but are being whipped daily by the British—in the newspapers.

EASY MONEY.

The publisher of the Peril, an A. P. A. sheet, wants his subscribers to pay lifetime subscriptions, and it is a cinch he will get away with them, as the class who swallow that literature and believe it are sure easy money.

SERIOUS MISTAKE.

A murderer and his two accessories have just been given heavy sentences in our criminal court. They made the mistake of not using common sense in committing the crime.

A little gift to the needy, particularly at this season of the year, will bring happiness to the recipient and will bring to you a better feeling. No charitable act ever goes unrecorded, even if it is not done with the blare of trumpets.

Four men were recently court-martialed in the army for being absent from their post of duty. What would happen to William Jennings Bryan did this rule apply to Cabinet members?

The December issue of the Peril appears in a white shroud. That vile sheet is practically dead, despite its frantic appeal to its dupes for $7,000.

RECENT DEATHS.

Frederick Haag, of 810 Rubel avenue, for many years in the grocery business, died Tuesday after a two years' illness of bronchitis. His funeral was held Thursday morning from St. Bridget's church. Surviving him are his wife and two children, Fred and Anna Haag.

Sympathy of many friends is tendered Mr. and Mrs. William O'Leary, 450 North Twenty-sixth street, whose infant daughter succumbed early Sunday morning to an attack of convulsions. Her funeral was held Monday afternoon, the body being tenderly laid to rest in St. John's cemetery.

The funeral of Miss Theresa Person, beloved daughter of Henry A. and the late Lena Person, was held Monday morning from St. Martin's church. Deceased was twenty-two years old and resided with her father at 815 South Hancock street. Miss Person was a young woman who will be missed by her many friends.

Funeral services over the remains of Thomas H. Byrne were held Sunday morning at Holy Name church. Deceased was the brother-in-law of J. B. Cummings, 2727 South Third street, and was widely known and highly respected throughout the State. His death was due to infirmities incident to his advanced years.

Many Louisville people mourn the death of Mrs. Margaret O'Brien, beloved wife of the late Michael O'Brien, a highly esteemed member of St. Michael's congregation. Mrs. O'Brien was the mother-in-law of John Hendricks, 736 Washington street, and had been a resident of this city for many years. The funeral was held Wednesday morning, the Rev. Father Schumann conducting the solemn services.

The last solemn rites were said Monday afternoon at St. Louis Bertrand's over the remains of Mrs. Mary O'Connor, widow of the late William O'Connor. For some time Mrs. O'Connor had been ill at her home, 1127 South Sixth street, and though eighty years old her condition was not considered critical until shortly before death. She is survived by one son, Robert O'Connor, and two daughters, Mrs. Bart Scannell and Miss Teresa O'Connor.

The funeral of Miss Anita Elliott, daughter of Mrs. Mary Elliott, 4116 North Twenty-first street, was held from St. Cecilia's church. Miss Elliott soon after returning home Saturday evening was stricken with hemorrhages and died before a physician could be called. Besides her mother, Miss Elliott leaves two sisters, Mrs. A. Carman and Miss Lillie Elliott, and four brothers, John, Edward, August and Charles Elliott. Her father died two months ago.

John E. Sullivan, aged fifty-three and a well known employee of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon on the Taylor Boulevard. Monday night he complained of headache. He remained at home Tuesday and in the afternoon became unconscious, expiring before a physician could be called. A son, John L. Sullivan, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. William Spink, survive him. The funeral was held Friday morning from Holy Name church.

KNIGHTS' RETREAT.

Under the auspices of New Albany Council, Knights of Columbus, a retreat for men will be held at St. Mary's church in that city, beginning next Wednesday and continuing until Saturday night. The retreat will be conducted by Rev. Father J. W. Jansen, S. J., of St. Louis, assisted by Rev. William F. Seibert, pastor of St. Mary's. There will be a mass at 5 o'clock each morning, and in the evening special services at 7:30 o'clock.

FATHER LYONS BETTER.

Rev. R. S. Lyons, O. P., who was threatened with an attack of pneumonia and was confined to his room at St. Louis Convent, is reported much better and past the danger point.

SECURE ANOTHER CHURCH.

Under the leadership of Rev. Joseph Wuest the colored Catholics of Detroit, Mich., have purchased the property of the St. Mary Episcopal Church Society, and will convert the edifice into a place of Catholic worship.

SOCIETY.

Councilman Al Steiger is threatened with pneumonia.

Mrs. Alice Curtin is visiting in Covington, the guest of Mrs. L. L. Smith.

Miss Nell C. Finegan is just recovering from an attack of acute indigestion.

Mrs. Thomas M. Barry has been ill at her home in Beechmont with an attack of the grip.

James O'Connor, the well known contractor, is seriously ill at St. Joseph's infirmary.

Miss Annie May Whalen enjoyed a pleasant visit with Mrs. Thomas Barry at Beechmont.

Col. James Hackett and son, Lawrence Hackett, left Tuesday to spend a month in California.

Miss Mary Virginia Campbell is home from Bardtown, where she visited Miss Lida Litsey.

John Garrity, for years a leading grocer in Jeffersonville, has returned from a long visit to Ireland.

Miss Julia Burns entertained her "500" club Saturday afternoon at her home in Waverly Court.

Edward Monahan and Charles Holdrick left Thursday for Lebanon, to spend the week end hunting.

Miss Bezzie Hannan, who has been suffering from an attack of lumbago, is reported as much improved.

George Weinbrenner is setting 'em to the boys on account of the arrival of a little boy at his home Monday afternoon.

Herman Daddens, Ed Bossmeyer and Albert D. Gregg have just returned from a hunting trip up Kentucky river.

The Bon Tons Club will give the second of their series of dances at Trinity Council Hall on Monday evening, December 28.

Little Geraldine and Mary, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Driscoll, have just recovered from an attack of ptomaine poisoning.

Mrs. H. J. Touhy, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Kremer in the Highlands, has returned to her home in Butte, Mont.

Miss Constance Cassidy will return December 21 from St. Catherine's Academy at Springfield, where she is attending school, for the holidays.

Misses Susan McDermott and Elizabeth Hogan, who are studying in New York, will arrive next week to spend the Christmas holidays at their homes in this city.

Misses Helen Mapother and Louise Walton, who are studying at St. Mary's College, Garden City, L. I., will be here to spend the holiday season with their parents.

The Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Louis Bertrand's church entertained the basketball team Wednesday evening with ice cream and cake after the regular exhibition game.

Miss Mae Adama Lincoln will arrive December 20 from Boston, where she is attending school, to spend the holidays with her parents, Judge and Mrs. Walter F. Lincoln.

Miss Mollie Collins, formerly of this city, but now located in St. Louis, is out on crutches, just recovering from her recent accident, in which she sustained a broken limb.

W. G. O'Connor, with the Illinois Central and prominent in Southern railroad circles, who was here to attend the funeral of Charles J. McGuire, left Wednesday night for his home in New Orleans.

A baby boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Buckman, 1034 Sixth street, this past week and has been persuaded by his uncle, Martin Mulaney, to sign a future contract with the Shamrock ball team.

Miss Mary O'Neill was given a surprise dinner at her home in New Albany by a number of friends in celebration of her birthday anniversary. Those participating were: Mesdames Frank Beaumont, Catherine Fallon and Joseph Keenher; Misses Mary Fallon, Anna O'Neill and Mary Keenher, of New Albany; Mrs. Frank Speth and Misses Mabelle Speth and Mary Conroy, of Jeffersonville; Mrs. Frank Reecever and Miss Anna Conley, of Louisville; Mrs. J. P. Leahy and Mrs. James McMahon, of Bedford.

A wedding of much interest in Louisville social circles will take place this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Charles Borromeo church, when Miss Amy Roberta Allsmiller, the attractive and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. William Allsmiller, will become the bride of Cary Blackburn Taylor, the well known young attorney and son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Taylor. Father Taylor will be the celebrant of the nuptial high mass and will perform the marriage ceremony. The happy couple will leave this evening on their honeymoon trip, and after December 24 will be at home at 2421 West Walnut street.

ORPHAN SOCIETY.

Tomorrow afternoon at St. Louis Bertrand's Hall the St. Vincent-St. Thomas Orphan Society will hold its first general meeting and nominate officers for the year 1915. Not quite a year old, this society has done excellent work, having installed electric lights and other improvements in St. Thomas Asylum and also arranged for a water service that will fill a long-felt and needed want.

Members Here and Elsewhere.

The membership in Oregon is increasing.
There are 200 fourth degree members in Milwaukee.

Fifty candidates were initiated Sunday at Aberdeen, S. D.
With forty members a council was instituted last Sunday at Seneca, Kas.

During October seventy new members were received into the order at Milwaukee.

Oklahoma City has the only K. of C. band in the United States, and it is a good one.

Instituted last January, the Knights of Athene, Ohio, initiated a second class of sixty on Sunday.

The Knights of Faribault have presented the Public Library there sixteen volumes of the Catholic Encyclopedia.

Four hundred fourth degree Knights acted as escort to Cardinal Gibbons upon his arrival in Scranton to visit Bishop Hoban.

Last Sunday week seventy-five candidates received the three degrees at Alton, Ill. Fully 300 visiting Knights were present.

Tomorrow there will be an initiation at David City, Neb., and it is expected to have a large class for December 20 at Hastings.

After the initiation of sixty candidates at La Crosse, Wis., Bishop Schwebach complimented the order and urged young men to join.

Union Council of Syracuse conferred the second on forty candidates on December 1 and has a large class for the first degree on December 15.

CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT.

The pupils of St. Leo's school, of Highland Park, will take part in an entertainment at the school hall on Sunday evening, December 20, the programme consisting of vocal and instrumental selections and two little playlets.

MOURN HER DEATH.

St. Cecilia's parish is called upon to mourn the death of Mrs. Margaret Egan, beloved wife of John Egan, 3104 Lytle street, who was called into eternal rest Wednesday night, leaving a wide circle of friends who mourn her death. Her funeral was held yesterday morning, Rev. Father

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

How about a big initiation for St.
Patrick's day?

Division 2 will send a strong list of delegates to the County Board.
Many former good workers for the order are again dropping into harness.

Division 2 will hereafter meet in Liederkrantz Hall building, Sixth and Walnut.

Division 4 will hold its annual election of officers next Monday evening.

There is much feeling in local circles against the Irishmen enlisting to fight for John Bull.

Thomas Hannan, of the old guard, will prove an able director of the financial affairs of Division 2.

Sergeant John Maloney and Matt
O'Brien will continue their good services as leaders of Division 3.

The eight Indianapolis divisions will hold the big annual December initiation a week from tomorrow.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Dover, N.
H., last week conferred the third degree on twenty-eight new members.

Divisions 5 and 6 of Indianapolis are running a close race in the membership contest that closes next week.

Edward Keelan will make a worthy successor to John Keaney.
Two better secretaries could not be named.

Misses Catherine Cody and Anne Richards, of the New Albany Auxiliary, attended the big initiation at Indianapolis.

Hibernians from all parts of Wisconsin assembled at Oshkosh Sunday week, when thirty-five candidates were initiated.

The good judgment exercised in the election of division officers augurs well for the future of the order in Louisville.

Division 1 of St. Paul had a joyful celebration of the thirty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the order in Minnesota.

Indianapolis Hibernians have organized an amusement committee of one from each division to prepare for the St. Patrick's day celebration.

Con Ford rounded out seventeen years as President of Division 2, and therefore declined in favor of Joe Lynch, of whom much will be expected.

When it comes to making visitors feel at home, James Welsh, of Division 2, has no superior. In the dispensing of hospitality he sees that none are overlooked.

Some of County President Connelly's brother members dropped in on him recently and were treated so royally that they walked all the way to Limerick, singing as they went.
Ask John Hennessy or Tom
Lynch about it.

Persuaded into erecting a theater instead of building a home for the order, the Trustees of the New York Hibernian Building Association have lost their land on the corner of Fifth avenue and One Hundred and Sixteenth street. This has had a disastrous effect on the order in the metropolis.

KNIGHTS OF ST. JOHN.

At the annual meeting of Commandery 80, Knights of St. John,
one of the strongest in the South, held Monday night in St. Anthony's Hall, the following officers were elected for the coming year:

President—Fred Herp.
Vice President—Martin Znaer.
Recording Secretary—Ambrose
Metting.

Financial Secretary—Louis W.
Borntraeger.

Treasurer—John J. Schulten.
Messenger—Edward Graf.

Executive Committee—Thomas
Graf, Louis Werner, George Kruse, William Dress, August Schwartz.

The military officers were all re-elected and are:

Captain—Louis Werner.
First Lieutenant—Fred Herp.
Second Lieutenant—John Henken.

Third Lieutenant—Edward Graf.
The initiation will take place in January, when men prominent in the order will be special guests.

RECOVERING.

Rev. Francis O'Connor, the genial and zealous assistant pastor at St.
Cecilia's church, has been taking needed rest at West Baden Springs for the past week. His physician reports the change quite beneficial.
Father O'Connor was accompanied to the Springs by Mrs. Lucy O'Connor and R. E. O'Connor.

RETURNS FROM RETIRE.

The Rev. Father Cletus Brady, C.
P., has returned from Nazareth Academy, in Nelson county, where he conducted a retreat for the novices, which closed on the feast of the Immaculate Conception, when there was a reception into the order of the Sisters of Charity.

The three men most seriously injured in the disastrous fire at Lurgan, Messrs. A. Malcomson, W.
Moffett and W. Gracey, Jr., are making satisfactory progress.

When the Dublin train arrived at Tullow William Farrell, of Dublin, who was about to pay a visit to his brother in Tullow, was found dead on the floor of a railway carriage.

Westmeath County Council having discussed the proposal for the projected railway line between Mullingar and Kells, rejected the scheme by a vote of thirteen to five.

The death is much regretted in Carriack-on-Suir of Miss Ellen M.
Kennedy. Deceased had been a most useful member of Carriack-on-Suir Board of Guardians for the past fifteen years.

John Redmond, M. P., visited Limerick City and addressed the Irish National Volunteers on Sunday, December 2. Col. Moore and several prominent M. P.'s and clergymen were present.

The appointments to the Magistracy for Mayo are announced of Messrs. Joseph Gilmartin, Chairman
Castlebar Guardians; Patrick Timlin and Thomas H. Gillespie, editor Connaught Telegraph.

The death of Jerome O'Mahony, of Dunmanway, at the age of seventy-four, is much regretted. As a member of the Fenian Brotherhood in his young days he was the life and soul of the organization in his district.

A very handsome monument has been placed in position outside St.
Mary's church, Kingscourt, in memory of the late Father Flood, pastor of the parish for more than twenty-five years and whose memory will ever remain enshrined in the hearts of Kingscourt men.

CONSISTORY.

News comes from Rome that Pope Benedict will hold a consistory on December 19. The first consistory of his Pontificate was held immediately after his election, when he conferred the red hat upon three Cardinals, created by Pope Pius X., who had come to Rome to attend the conclave.

From Rome the Associated Press
cabled on Monday that Pope Benedict is urging that an understanding be arranged between the warring factions under which a truce will be possible during the Christmas holidays. It is said, however, that His Holiness has little hope for the success of his efforts.

DEAD AT ROME.

From London came intelligence that the Central News received a dispatch from its Rome correspondent saying that Cardinal Angelo di Pietro, doyen of the Sacred College, died Saturday morning. Cardinal di Pietro was born May 26, 1828. He was Papal Nuncio at Madrid in 1887 and he was created and proclaimed a Cardinal priest in 1893.

GIVES MARBLE ALTAR.

Mrs. Winthrop Rutherford, daughter of former Vice President Levi F.
Morton, has had placed in the new Catholic church at Allamuchy, N. J., an altar of white Dover marble,
seven feet long and three feet wide,
which it took two years to carve.
The inscription on the altar is "Presented by my Mother, Anna Livingston Morton." Mrs. Rutherford provided the money to build the church.

What the Club Plan Is And What It Means to You

The Club Plan is an extended payment plan instituted purely and simply for the convenience of our patrons who wish to buy Household Goods, such as Furniture, Carpets, Rugs, etc.

When you join the Club Plan you are asked to pay 3 per cent. of the amount of your purchase for joining; for instance:

The membership fee on a $25.00 purchase would be 75c.

The membership fee on a $50.00 purchase would be $1.50.

The membership fee on greater purchases would of course be in proportion.

You are then asked to pay 10 per cent. of your total purchase as the first payment. For instance, on a $25.00 purchase you pay $2.50 down in addition to the membership fee, making a total of $3.25. The goods are then delivered to you and you arrange to pay the balance in small weekly or monthly payments.

When you consider that goods bought on the Club Plan are purchased at our cash prices—whether special or regular—you will more clearly see that our membership fee is nothing in comparison with the additional cost installment houses place on their goods for the privilege of time payments.

FURNITURE, CARPETS, RUGS, HOUSE FURNISHINGS AND OTHER HOUSEHOLD GOODS ARE SOLD ON THE CLUB PLAN.

Any further information regarding the Club Plan will be cheerfully given by our salespeople or at the Credit office on the fifth floor.

ELECT OFFICERS.

Division 3, A. O. H., held an old time rousing meeting last Monday in their club house on Portland avenue, the annual election of officers being responsible for the large attendance present. Sergeant John M. Maloney, the present President, was given a splendid endorsement by being re-elected for another term, although wanting to step aside for another leader, as he phrased it, but was persuaded to again be a candidate. His running mate, Matt O'Brien, the present Vice President, was chosen after following in President Maloney's footsteps by wanting to decline to be a candidate. The other officers elected were:

Recording Secretary—Thomas Killen.
Financial Secretary—John J. Heslison, Jr.
Treasurer—D. J. Dougherty.
Sergeant-at-Arms—Thomas Noone.
Sentinel—Martin Kaler.
Thomas Quinn, President of the Social Club, announced that there would be a euchre and lotte in the hall next Monday evening and that the combination book awards would be announced on that date. Emmet Desmond and Will Riley will be the committee in charge of the affair. County President W. J. Connelly was present and complimented the division on its progress during the year.

HOME AGAIN.

Col. and Mrs. Frank McGrath, who were accompanied by their little daughter Helen, arrived home this week from an extensive tour of the Far West and other points. While away they visited in California, Colorado and Texas, stopping in all of the principal cities and points of interest. Col. McGrath states that one of the most enjoyable surprises of his tour was that he ran across a copy of the Kentucky Irish American in New Orleans, which was as welcome as a letter from home.

LEAGUE IS FORMED.

The Mackin Basketball League has been organized for the coming season with six teams. There is much enthusiasm among the players and the season is expected to develop a number of stars. Manager Hubach is earnestly working on his baseball team for 1915, and asks those who may wish to play to get in touch with him.

FUNERAL THIS MORNING.

The funeral of Joseph Kelly, who died Wednesday night at his home, 2023 Lytle street, will be held this morning from St. Patrick's church. Deceased was a well known machinist and was born in this city twenty-three years ago. His father, John R. Kelly, and two sisters, Misses Annie and Mary Kelly, survive him.

EMBER DAYS.

Next Wednesday, Friday and Saturday will be Ember days and consequently days of fasting.

FATHER CROWLEY'S NERVE TONIC
Surely Deserves Success.
"My son lost a hand, working in our mill; since it seemed as if I could not help him, I then consulted a physician. He tried three doctors to no avail, then took Father Crowley's Nerve Tonic; since then I recovered my health and can work again. I therefore wish the Tonic to be sold everywhere."
Mr. M. F. Cherry, of Stevensville, Mont., writes: "Some nine years ago I became afflicted with dizziness, without any cause whatever. I then consulted a physician, who only relieved me, but one bottle of Father Crowley's Nerve Tonic had the desired effect, and will recommend it to all afflicted with nervousness."
Mr. W. W. Harmon, of Elmo, Kan., took Father Crowley's Nerve Tonic also against dizziness, and had no more attacks in three months, while before very often.
Prepared by Rev. FATHER CROWLEY, of Port Wayne, Ind., since 1875, and now by the AMERICAN CHRONOLOGY.

Timely Record of Some Memorable Events in the Catholic History of America.

December 13, 1829—Cornerstone of the first Catholic church in Buffalo, N. Y., laid by Father Nicholas Mertz on ground donated by Louis le Couteux, at Main and Edwards streets.

December 14, 1860—Cathedral of St. Boniface, Manitoba, whose bells were sung by Whittier, destroyed by fire.

December 16, 1892—The Right Rev. Nicholas Aloysius Gallagher appointed administrator of the diocese of Galveston; ordained December 25, 1898; consecrated titular Bishop of Canopus April 30, 1892.

December 17, 1841—Diocese of Kingston, Ontario, Canada, divided; eastern half erected into the diocese of Toronto, with the Right Rev. Michael Power as first Bishop; consecrated May 8, 1842.

December 18, 1891—Death at Salt Lake City of Gen. Patrick Edward Connor; served in the civil war and against the Indians in Utah; decisively defeated them at Tongue river in 1865; born in Ireland, March 17, 1820.

December 19, 1842—Decision by Judge Preval, sustained by United States Supreme Court, that ordinance passed by the New Orleans City Council prohibiting priests to officiate at burial services except in the old Cathedral mortuary chapel was illegal; outgrowth of controversy between Bishop Blanc and the trustees; latter defeated in court; yielded in 1844.

SONGS, SONNETS, ESSAYS.

A revised and enlarged edition of "Songs, Sonnets, and Essays," by Rev. D. O. Crowley, LL. D., of San Francisco, and Very Rev. T. L. Crowley, O. P., of St. Louis Bertrand's Convent, has just been issued, and the many kind comments in both the religious and secular press from both sides of the Atlantic have created considerable interest in the work, the following being an extract from the Irish Independent, of Dublin: "It is a real pleasure to scan the volume now issued by Father Crowley's nephew, the gifted young Dominican priest, Rev. T. L. Crowley, of Aquinas College, Columbus, Ohio, who shows that the genius of the uncle is not a solitary flame by a choice selection of his own poems. These are all tinged with a deep religious fervor and heartily expressive of Catholic devotion." Beninger's Magazine comments as follows: "Father Crowley, O. P., has here gathered into permanent form the stirring and plaintive verses of his uncle, the Rev. D. O. Crowley, as well as his own most notable effusions. Included in the book are essays on Father Tabb and James Ryder Randall that will be found by many to be the finest contributions ever penned to the memory of these matchless sons of the South." "Songs, Sonnets and Essays" can be secured at Rogers book store or at the Dominican Convent. One dollar per copy.
